Edward Hart, Democratic leader in East Orange, is receiving congratulations on every hand over the excellent nominee presented to the Democrats of the Eighth Congressional District. Le Gaga Pratt. the Democratic nominee, has surprised Mr. Hart, Col. Price and other eteran Democrate with his wonderful ability as a campaigner. The East Orange leader was afraid at first that the party had almed too high, and that there might be a chilly void between the canmanner that threw Col, Price into ecstasies of delight and praise. The Newark Evening News says of Mr. Pratt's nomination :

Has Hart Picked a Winner?

Representative in Congress by the Demthe field a candidate fitted to fight a winning battle against Henry J. Gottlob. Mr. Prattis an honored citizen of Essex county, a resident of East Orange, who, as vice-president of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, has had a large stands as high in the confidence of the people of his district as he does in the estimation of his employers. "Mr. Fratt goes before the people on a platform that ought to attract voters, He is pledged by it to the principles of a protective tariff for the benefit of American workingmen, while against a tariff on the necessities that make the cost of living extreme. Such a position on the tariff is all that can be demanded by the laboring then and the manufacturers of the Eighth District. The plank in favor of the curbing of unlawful trusts is alan one that is in consonance with public opinion. Both personally and in the Sermon by the pastor, "Let the Ape principles he represente, Mr. Pratt etands, therefore, in an enviable position before the voters of the district. There is more Catarra in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronembeed if a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly falling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hail's Catarh Cure, manufactured by F. J. The Fruit of Caricature TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

many a true word said in jest." The many people who attended the minstrel entertainment under the auspices of the Young Men's Republican Club several months ago, and laughed heartly at the jokes and skits carleaturing local politicians and some town officers, can, as they survey the present political situation, realize that beneath the mirth-provoking exterior of the portrayal of town pelled all such anxiety by extending the sion on the voting public. How well the gled warm hand to the workers in a public read between the lines can be readily appreciated, now that nearly every politician and town official whowere the butt of the minstrel jokes have been turned down by the Republican voters. "The nomination of Le Gage Pratt for and have been compelled to appeal to the Democratic party in their efforts cerate of the Eighth District puts into to save themselves from retirement to private life. While it has not been specifically stated, it is obvious that the present movement in local affairs in the Republican party is in the nature of a reform movement, and the popular desire for reform grew out of the expoexperience as a man of affairs, and who sition furnished by the Young Men's Republican Club under the guise of a minstrel show. The remarkable ease with which some of the popular political idols were thrown down after their vulnerable points were exposed by the Young Men's Club .s one of the most remarkable;things that have happened in local politics in years, and it is not gen; erally believed that Democratic aid and efforts can re-establish the idole in popu-

County Park Inspection.

Inspection of all the county parks parkways and mountain reservations under the coutrol of the Essex County Park Commission was completed about o'clock Saturday aftergoon, and everything was found to be in excellent order. It was the first time that all of the territory under the supervision of the Park Commissioners was inspected in one day. This was made possible by using automobiles instead of horses and carriages. All those in the party were exceedingly well pleased with the big improvements

Orange Mendelssohn Union

The Orange Mendel soun Union, one of the most talented choral bodies in this section, held its first rehearsal this season under the direction of Mr. Arthur Mees, who has been retained as its conductor, at its headquarters, 229 Main street, Orange, last Thursday night. There was a large attendance of members, and the interest shown by all in the society's undertakings indicates credit in the past. The society's plans include a performance of Handel's oratorio "The Messiah," to be given at Ohristmastide. The first subscription concert will be devoted to choral works by French composers, including Massenet's "Eve." At the second concert Sir Edward Elgar's finely harmonized strong and impressive composition

By its devotion to choral song the Mendelssohn Union is doing admirable work in the Oranges, which music-lov. ing residents of the adjoining towns also should be quick to appreciate. The society is open to new members both active and associate, and those who feel that they are qualified for membership and desire to join can have their voices tested Thursday evenings at 7,30 o'clock at the society's rooms. Those desiring to become associate members may communicate with Mr. Arthur A. Bichmond, 80 Park street, East Orange.

To Test Legality of Assessment.

Acting on a report made by Assessor August Brandis that the County Board of Taxation had stricken from the levy made by the West Orange assessors $50,000 charged against the county parks located in West Orange, the Town Council at a special meeting, passed a reso-H. Rollinson to apply for a writ of cerefit to the town, and no small part of the | tiorari restraining the county board from taking this action.

This made the beginning of a fight, the brunt and expense of which West Orange will have to bear, and the outcome of which will determine whether municipalities will have a right to tax park property. The contention of West Orange is that the park commissioners having taken so much of West Orange's taxable property, should be compelled to give something as an offset to the town's lose. The writ of certiorari, if it is obtained, will restrain the county board from erasing the item from the books, and also compel them to show cause why the assessment should not stand.
